EXCITEMENT IN ROCHESTER.

The Commotion Caused by the Statement of a Physician.

An unusual article from the Rochester N. Y. Democrat and Chronicle, was recently republished in this paper and was a subject of much comment. That the article caused even more commotion in Rochester, the following from the same paper shows:

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well-known not only in Rochester but in nearly every part of America, sent an excited article to this paper a few days since which was duly published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal enquiries which have been made at our office as to the author of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed necessary.

With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion, at his residence, when the following interview occurred: "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued such as you claim?"

"Every one of them and many additional ones. I was brought so low by neglecting the first and most simple symptoms, I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious."

"The medical profession has been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. The symptoms I have just mentioned or any unusual action or irritation of the water channels indicate the approach of kidney disease more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do treat the cough, but try to help the lungs. We search for the cause of the time trying to relieve the headache, pains about the body or other symptoms, but go directly to the kidneys, the source of such troubles."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it?" "Precisely. Thousands of diseases are torturing people to-day, which in reality are Bright's disease in some of its many forms. It is a fierce-headed monster, and slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malaria, fever and other common complaints which I now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first?"

"Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible danger also."

Mr. Warner, who was visited at his establishment on N. St. Paul street, spoke very earnestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease has increased wonderfully, and we find, by reliable statistics, that from 70 to 80 per cent of the growth of 1880 to 1889 was due to it. At the present time it has carried off, and is taking off every year, for while many are dying apparently of pneumonia and apoplexy, they are really victims of kidney disorder, which causes heart disease, paralysis, apoplexy, etc. Nearly every week the papers record the death of some prominent man from this scourge. Recently, however, the increase has been checked and I attribute this to the general use of my remedy."

"Do you think many people are afflicted with it to-day who do not realize it, Mr. Warner?"

"A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease. He had various fluids under microscopic analysis and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. And now, gentlemen," he said, "as we have seen the unhealthy indications, I will show you how it appears in the state of perfect health, and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the results his countenance suddenly changed—his great eyes were fixed both left him in a troubling voice he said: 'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; and in less than a year he was dead.' The truest indications of any kidney difficulty should be enough to strike terror to any one."

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?" "Yes, I have both read and heard of it."

"It is very wonderful is it not?" "No more so, than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the same means."

ABSOLUTELY PURE

"You believe then that Bright's disease can be cured?"

"I know it can. I know it from my own and the experience of thousands of prominent persons who were given up to die by both their physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience, what was it?"

"A fearful one. I had felt languid and unfitted for business for years but I did not know what ailed me. When, however, I found it was kidney difficulty I thought there was little hope and so did the doctors."

"Have since learned that one of the physicians of this city pointed me out to a gentleman on the street one day, saying: 'There goes a man who will be dead within a year.' Believe his words would have proved true if I had not fortunately used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe-Cure."

"Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?" "I was asked Dr. S. A. Lathrop, one of the analysts of the State Board of Health."

"Yes, sir."

"What did this analysis show you?"

"A serious disease of the kidneys."

"Did you think Mr. Warner could recover?"

"No, sir, I did not think it possible."

"Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?"

"I have chemically analyzed it and find it pure and harmless."

"The late Dr. J. B. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lathrop in the community is beyond question, and the statements they make cannot for a moment be doubted. Dr. Henion's experience shows that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, but that it can be cured if taken in time."

Just.

Miss Lillie Gibson is visiting friends in Midway.

Mr. James T. Long of Tyrone, visited this section last Sunday.

Miss Agnes Cleanth, of Madison county, a young lady quite popular in this neighborhood, is to be married on Thursday, February 14th.

Mr. William Bailey, a well known cattle dealer of Woodford, committed suicide on Friday of last week. Mr. Bailey met with an accident some time ago, receiving severe injuries from a fall caused by a runaway team, which time he was suffering from loss of sleep, bringing about a condition of the mind. This is the fifth or sixth suicide in Woodford within the last few years.

We have among us a young man, fifteen or sixteen years old, by the name of LeCompte, who is certainly a wonderful character, and can do some wonderful things. He will allow two large strong men to grasp a pole, and taking hold of the pole with one hand he causes them to reel and stagger as drunken men, though they use their utmost endeavors to do otherwise. One evening not long since, when it was dark as midnight, your correspondent remained in a room with LeCompte while another gentleman went out into the night and hid a dollar, more than a hundred yards away. On his return LeCompte took a third party by the hand led him out and in five minutes placed his hand upon the hidden dollar. The last was applied again and again, the dollar being stuck in rocks and mud on the railroad, and in every conceivable out of the way place, but the performer never failed to find it in from five to ten minutes. We do not understand the philosophy of the matter, but the young man himself professes to understand, yet through a recent seer and unbeliever, we are now ready to gamble on his success in every instance.

Mr. S. J. Gibson is in Louisville this week with his tobacco, or in Lagrange with his best girl, "divil the bird" do we know which, perhaps, either or both.

The Capitol still sleeps among the hills, while the great cities rejoice, moan, lament, threaten, add, bribe, anything to be sensational, but Frankfort hasn't got any flies on her.

Editors.

If you are offered a bottle of Salvation Oil, without a wrapper, or mutilated or defaced, don't buy it at any price, you may be sure that there is something wrong. It may be a worthless or dangerous counterfeit. Insist upon getting a perfect, unbroken, genuine package, in a yellow wrapper.

I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup personally and in my family it cured us and I recommended it to all. H. C. DICKINSON, Richmond, Ind.

Between The Pikes.

Rainy weather; nothing but rain.

Tobacco is bringing a fine price, most all the farmers are through with it, a good many have sold and are in good spirits.

Most all the public schools have closed. I believe the patrons are lecturing themselves for having sprung schools. We had a splendid teacher the last fall. I guess you all have heard of her. The bird that Mr. Ausch has been hunting for. She was a good teacher and every body was well pleased with the school. We only wish she would teach another as good. The school closed last Saturday. A great many of the patrons and friends were present.

We have had a great many parties this winter and had more fun the last two weeks. The festival was here than we have had in five years.

The spring fever will soon set in and I thought I had better write now. I wish the owl would come around this way with his news sack, as news is scarce. We are about six miles from it, we would be glad to have you. Well if I don't see you any more the mule is yours. Good bye.

Injured by a Shell.

Mr. W. K. Uterback went up on one of the hills overlooking South Frankfort Thursday afternoon for the purpose of practicing shooting at a mark with a Winchester rifle. He used shells he had loaded himself, which were not perfect, and one of them became fastened in the chamber of the gun, and in attempting to throw it out with the ejector, the shell exploded, a portion of it striking him on the cheek and cutting an ugly gash, his face was badly powder burned and one of his eyes barely escaped being put out. Disorders which Affect the Kidneys.

Are among the most formidable known. Diarrhea, Bright's disease, gravel and other complaints of the urinary organs are not ordinarily cured in severe cases, but they may be cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A useful stimulant of the urinary glands has ever been found in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a medicine which not only affords the requisite stimulus when they become inactive, but increases their vigor and secretory power. By increasing the activity of the kidneys and bladder, this medicine has the additional effect of expelling from the blood impurities which it is the organs of the body to eliminate and pass off. The kidneys are a purifier and strengthener of the blood, and the invigoration of the stomach, and matriculation for biliousness and fever and ague. It constitutes a tendency to premature decay and sustains and comforts the aged and infirm.

Amusements.

ON THE FRONTIER.

That the large and delighted audience enjoyed the performance, was made evident by the loud and continued applause which greeted the various fine points and handsome tableaux which abound in the play presented, Mrs. W. F. Johnson's stirring melodrama, "On the Frontier." As the title indicates, it is one of those realistic mountain histories which abound in heroism and manful portraiture. The opening scene is laid in the Black Hills, during the days of its early settlement, and the little community there are constantly on the qui vive against Indian attack. Jack Osborne (James M. Hardie) is a scout, trapper and guide, the head of the people of his place, and a noble fellow in every quality. Col. Austin, who has a body of soldiers at the settlement, learns that the troops on the Yellowstone are in danger, and that he must succor them. He leaves his daughter Rose, a lovely girl in charge of Mrs. Johnson, while Jack acts as the Colonel's guide. An unprincipled scoundrel, Morley by name, has fallen in love with Rose. He hates Jack as well, and determines to possess the girl and destroy his foe, and therefore conspires with the Indians to kill the guide. But an Indian maiden named Blueflower, spoiled by the plotting, loving Jack and being loved in return. Many interesting situations follow—the attack upon settlement, the brave defence, the burning of the Osborne homestead, the capture of the girls. They learn that they are sisters. Then Jack and his rangers pursue the redskins, and in the midst of fire and flames the victims are rescued. In the engagement Jack meets Morley, and in a desperate fight kills him. The Indians are killed and the flames are re-united. To say that such artists as James M. Hardie and Sara Von Leer assumed the principal characters is to speak of the best and finest acting. The whole supporting company is excellent and the scenery is fine.—Brooklyn Citizen.

At the Opera House to-night.

THE WIFE.

I should say that the prevailing impression of the performance of "The Wife" is tone.

It pervades everything and everybody on the stage with quiet subdued harmony, which forces the conviction that the work is rightly and admirably done without giving any particular reason for the conviction. All one knows is that the scenes are effective, that there is absolutely no offense in the performance, and that for some reason the development of the play, or perhaps better, the emotions of the persons in the drama so quietly and yet so intensely expressed, chain the attention.

Manager Daniel Frohman has promised to stage the play here in as elaborate manner as it was done in New York.

People can hardly believe it.

JAMESVILLE, ILL., May 30th, 1898. I take pleasure in letting you know that my boy is still all right, he has not had any of the spasms since about March 28th. The people can hardly believe it from the fact that he had so many as 15 a day or more. I believe he was a very nervous child all his life, but he did not have the least sign of spasms until last December, after which they came in regular succession, and the doctors attending who could do nothing for him, nor even tell us what was the matter. I had despaired of his ever getting well, until I got Koenig's Nerve Tonic. After taking not quite a bottle he was not quite well and has not had the least sign of spasms since. Respectfully Yours,

MRS. E. LEYTON.

I testify to the facts as stated above to be strictly true.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 14, 1901.

Granted Pensions.

Levi Berry and William Bush, of this city, were granted pensions, on Tuesday, for service in the late war.

Seeking a Nomination.

Attorney General P. W. Hardin, of this city, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Next Month.

Rumor hath it that a young gentleman sojourning in the western part of the State will come to this city to claim a bride from among the young ladies of the South Side some time in March.

Lexington Sale.

Quite a number of the horse men of this county have been attending the sale of horses in Lexington this week and many of them have sold a portion of their stock at the same, fair prices being realized.

Holds On.

The ground hog winter still continues and the weather the first of the week demonstrated the wisdom of his hogship in again seeking his hole on the second of this month. As a weather prophet the shadow of the ground hog never grows less.

Cottage Sold.

Mr. J. H. Williamson has sold his new two-story cottage on Third street, between Steele and Conway, to Miss Ruth Robinson for two thousand dollars cash. Miss Robinson will take possession next week and remove there to reside.

Violated His Parole.

Russell Brown, a negro sent to the Penitentiary from Lexington upon the charge of manslaughter, who was released on parole after serving four months of his term, was returned to the Pen. on Monday, by order of the Governor, having violated the terms of his parole.

Name Wanted.

"A Friend," who sent us a communication from Polsgrove, is requested to send his name to this office and he will receive the notice that he desires. As we have already published one obituary of the person upon whose death he writes, we hardly think another desirable.

Suburban Residence Sold.

Mr. John C. Peden has purchased of Mr. R. W. Smith his residence on Thorn Hill for twenty-five hundred dollars. This was a great bargain as the place cost Mr. Smith over three thousand dollars and the house has been built but little more than a year. Mr. Peden took possession last week and moved in.

ENTITLED TO THE PRIZE.

All are entitled to the best thing money will buy, so every family should have, I once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when constive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists. 22-m.

The Mask Hop.

The masquerade hop given by the German Benevolent Society at the Capital Hotel on Monday night was a notable event in the whole series of the winter season of gaiety, prior to the advent of the lenten season. Everything was conducted in strictly first-class style and the entire management paid assiduous attention to the vast assemblage. There were about fifty couples on the floor at one time, while the number of spectators who did not participate in the dance was very large. The music furnished was delightful and those present enjoyed themselves until near the dawn of Tuesday.

Voice From Bowling Green.

The following communication to the Louisville Times of Tuesday afternoon, was headed "Kencim's Kiek." As the writer displays a great deal of "horse sense," he has a point on right to kick, and we hope he will continue to do so vigorously.

It strikes me—as it must strike every citizen of the State not personally and privately interested in the matter—that it is a piece of the most absurdity in that "August body," the Constitutional Convention, to consider the removal of the State Capital. For all practicable and legitimate purposes; for all purposes for which the Capital was made to serve, there is no better place in the State for its location than where it now is. This is a proposition so open, so simple and plain, that all argument on the point appears the most superfluous and ridiculousness.

If, harkening to the alleged reasons of the Lexington or the Louisville lobby, the Constitutional Convention should decide to move the Capital to either one of these cities, then, with a parity of logic the Capital might be moved back to Frankfort or to some other place in the State. For as sound reasons can be given for a perpetual removal of the Capital as now being urged for its removal from Frankfort.

To these "Commercial Clubs," which send out their lobbies from the different cities wanting the Capital, I would say: "What is your motive for wanting the Capital moved? Is it the interest of the State you have at heart? Or do you really look over the interest of the State and only have in view the commercial and real estate interest of your own particular city? If the former be your motive, then your patriotism is far more to be praised than your sagacity. If the latter be your motive, then your sagacity is far more to be praised than your patriotism."

The smaller, the more quiet, the more of a rural city, a town more breathe, the better suited it is a location for the State Capital; for such a location is, in the greatest degree possible, accessible to the various seductive and vitating agencies, which, for one purpose and another, should continually gather about and beset a Capital situated in a large city. Surely we cannot be too so-called in seeing to the wholesome-ness and purity of the social and moral environment of the fountain of State Government, that thereby all things possible may conduce to the purity of the waters that issue therefrom. Yet this fact is overlooked by those who, for private and individual ends, are striving to have the Capital moved from Frankfort to some larger city.

Some, when asked why they want the Capital moved, answer, saying: "Oh, Frankfort is such a quiet, dead and out-of-the-way place little place!" It is this sort of people give an argument against themselves. They forget that Frankfort was not selected with a view to its commercial or social importance, but as a suitable location for the seat of State Government. If there be any State officer who finds Frankfort too quiet to suit him, then by all means let him resign his office once, for we take such fact as indisputable evidence of his inefficiency as a public officer, he is fit for whatever other purpose he may.

Remember that the most gay, costly and gorgeous Capitals the world has ever known have been the government seat of despotism. When the Capital of a country becomes a place of dissipation, it has become some time time unworthy and inefficient as the seat of government.

Never mind about the comparative humbleness and unpretentiousness of the Capital building. The people are making no complaint about it. It answers its purpose very well. What the people are anxious to see is their common tax made as low as is consistent with a wise, just and economical expense of State, and thereby a little handsomer capital built in their pockets. What the people want to see is not a more splendid and more costly building, but a more efficient public servants who are sent to Frankfort with as honest the one we have.

Rafting.

A great many rafts of logs are now passing Beattyville on their way to Ford, Frankfort and other down-river points. Let us advise all the mills at these places to make hay while the sun shines, as it is only a question of a few months until the R. N. L. & B. will be completed to this point, and the Beattyville mills will cut practically all the timber that will come out of her three rivers. With facilities for shipping timber from this point, our friends down the river will either have to move their mills to Beattyville or quit business, as they will then be unable to compete with Beattyville prices. Be warned in time, come now to Beattyville select your mill site and get everything in order to move with the procession.—Beattyville Enterprise.

IN MEMORIAM.

JACOB DUBOIS was born in Campbell county, Virginia, January 5, 1812. At the age of eighteen he emigrated to the States and lived in a number of places in the State of New York. He was a member of the Baptist Church from that time until February 20, 1890, when, after a long illness, he fell asleep in the arms of Jesus.

Mr. Dubois was married four times, his last wife still surviving him. His first wife was a Miss Patterson, the companion of his boyhood and a partner of his joys for a few brief years. The fruit of that union being Mr. James K. Dubois, of Clark, Ky. His second wife was Miss Louise Jett, who bore him five children, all of whom are living except the eldest, George, who died April 28, 1864. The late Mrs. Dubois, of Clark, Ky., is the daughter of Mr. J. C. Baker, of Clark, and Mrs. Lee A. Owen, of Clark, Ky.

He was singularly fortunate in the selections of his wives, all of them being women of superior mind and heart. This fact made his home pleasant and happy, and equipped with a systematic single mode of life, enabled him to reach that age which is seldom accorded to man.

He was rugged in his homely, simple in taste, kind in manner, content to work out life's portion in his own quietness, and retiring in disposition. A life well spent, rounded up and full, death came quietly, a fitting climax to an existence that was quiet and pure.

To the widow and children comes the sweet consolation that they can rely on the Author and Finisher of all things for guidance, strength and hope, and to realize that there has gone before just another link to bind them closer to the blessed home, eternal beyond the skies.

L. A. O.

To the memory of our sister, Ella C. Newbold, who died Jan. 11, 1893, aged 29 years, 5 months and three days. These lines are tenderly dedicated. What is life?

A narrow span

That measures existence

To every man.

What is death?

An open door

Where the soul steps forth

To the other shore.

What is beyond?

That none can tell.

Beside the grave

The curtain falls.

It is not given to mortal ken:

We know the now.

But not the then.

And men of learning

Nor men of lore,

Can ever tell.

A sentence more.

And who is God?

Great nature's King.

Who lives and moves in every thing.

We feel His hand

In the summer breeze.

He lives to us

In the building trees.

We see Him paint

The perfumed flower.

We catch His smile

In the rainbow's shower.

We hear His praise

In the lulling bird.

And an answering choir

In our heart's chord.

He speaks to us

In the thunder's roll.

And in the work

In the starry soil.

We hear His voice

In the coming storm.

The created billion

Poetry His form.

In the jarring brook

We see His face:

On the sunset glow.

His footprints trace.

We note His frown

On the heaving cliff.

And mark His hand

On the earthquake's rift.

We feel His care

In the harvest's yield.

As we gaze on the grain

From field to field.

We own His presence

Around, above.

And know His name

Means only love.

What is the soul?

It is the essence.

Made divine by God.

We call "immortal mind."

Two elements, for good or bad.

In each of us is always hid.

Both vice and virtue emanate.

From Him who did our souls create.

But only virtue has been given.

There's been no use for other heaven.

Had world vice, alone held sway.

We could not reach the perfect day.

There is no life

So pure and free.

It needs no further purity.

There's no soul so lost in sin

That God will not redeem again.

Imperfect came we

From His hand.

Imperfect as His command.

If to our souls some thought

Is given, in that heaven-born hour,

We can not see, but trust in Him.

Who dwells keeps our vision dim.

From Him it came.

To Him alone its vision here

Our earth is known.

That mission issued, back it lies

To Him who asked the sacrifice.

We can not give one reason, why

We were created, you or I.

We only look on nature's reign

And know that nothing is made in vain.

All has some purpose to fulfill.

For good or evil.

We only stand and wait our time

To hear the distant fainting chime

Of bells across the weeping shore.

Which shall call forth our souls no more.

We welcomed His hand

Without the youngest of our land.

With little girl our hearts must swell.

Yea, little girl, our hearts must swell.

That "all is well."

Brief was our life.

And full of toil.

We would not call her back again.

For some time, but her veil will rend.

And dwell with her

In God, our friend.

Forks of Elkhorn.

Considerable winter the first of the week.

Regular service at the Christian Church to-night, to-morrow and to-morrow night at the regular hours.

Miss Mattie Ely has returned to her home in Lexington from a visit of several weeks to relatives in this community.

Our school is in a prosperous condition. Five new pupils enrolled last Monday. Four from Woodlake and one from Stamping Ground.

Mr. Jacob Cofer and family, after a year's residence in this place, left last Monday for their former home in Bath county.

Elkhorn has been on a boom twice during the last two or three weeks.

We report quite a number on the sick list. Dr. French is kept busy most of the time.

The F. & L. U. in our midst is in a prosperous condition. Quite a number of accessions each week.

Last Saturday and Sunday are days long to be remembered in the history of the Buck Run Baptist Church, the same being the occasion of the meeting of the Franklin County Mission Circle.

The programme was carried out as far as practicable. The report of the Executive Committee showed a healthy state of the financial workings of the Baptists in the county. Rev. W. C. Taylor, of Frankfort, preached Saturday morning and Rev. E. S. Alderman at night.

Sunday morning Rev. Baker, of Shelby county, preached and Bro. Alderman acted as night. These sermons were characterized by a fervor and eloquence rarely enjoyed by a community in so short a time.

Mrs. Sallie Talbott, of Lexington, has returned home from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Julia Lucas.

Mrs. Dora Cleveland left Monday for Versailles, whither she was called to attend the bedside of her son who is reported very ill.

Mr. Willard Wilkerson, of Stamping Ground, was in our midst last Sunday and Monday.

The tobacco fever for the ensuing season has not yet taken fast hold on this community.

Rev. W. B. Cooper, of Lexington, preached an excellent sermon in the Baptist Church in this town.

Rev. W. G. Nevel, of Frankfort, will preach at the Baptist Church in this place to-morrow at 3 o'clock p. m.

L. F. GANTER'S MAGIC REMOVER!

NO CURE, NO PAY. NO CURE, NO PAY. NO CURE, NO PAY.

The MAGIC REMOVER fills a long felt want with owners of Horses or Mules with Warts, Knots, Bruises, Cuts, Strains, Sprains, Old Sores, Barb Wire Cuts, etc. It makes no difference how long the knot has been there, or how hard it is, (if it is not of the bone,) we will take it off on the "NO CURE, NO PAY" plan. In removing the knot the hair comes off, and the place becomes very sore; when you stop using it, the hair comes back its original color, and not a trace of the knot is left. For plan of insurance, etc., call at the undersigned druggist's, and bring your animal with you.
